SUMMARY OF NOTABLE INCIDENTS

Identity Theft

On December 7th a Farmington Rd. resident reported at the police front desk that she was the victim of an identity theft. The victim advises that she received a notice from Wells Fargo bank stating that an unknown person had attempted to open a credit card in the victim's name. The account was denied and the victim did not experience any loss.

False Identification to Police

On December 7th officers responded to the Marathon Gas Station on Grand River Ave for a report of a retail fraud (shoplifting). Upon arrival officers learned that the suspect had stolen a butane torch and hand sanitizer from the store and left on foot. Officers located the suspect who still had the stolen items on him. The suspect provided a name to officers, but when officers looked up the name provided they discovered that the name was spelled wrong and that the driver's license photo was of someone else. The man was arrested for providing false identification to officers and was process at the Farmington Jail. The man's fingerprints revealed his true identity and he was advised that he would be arrested for trespassing should he return to the Marathon.

Stolen Auto

On December 8th officers responded to the Drakeshire Apartments for a report of a stolen auto. Upon arrival the officers learned that the victim had accidentally left his keys in the lock to the building door. When the victim went to retrieve the keys, he noticed that both his keys and his 2017 Honda CR-V were missing. The vehicle was entered into the statewide system as stolen.

Stolen Packages

On December 8th this department was contacted by the Detroit Police Department and advised that they had stopped a suspect who had several Amazon packages from various Farmington addresses.

Weekly Shift Report

December 6th 2021 through December 12th 2021

Officers made contact with the owner of the packages and learned that they had received notification from Amazon that their packages had been delivered but did not have the packages on their doorstep. Detroit Police arrested the suspect for being in possession of stolen property. The investigation is ongoing.

Vandalism

On December 10th the property manager at Brookdale Condos reported a vandalism at the police front desk. The property manager advised that an unknown subject had placed an oily substance in the community pool, forcing the complex to drain the pool and clean it. The manager advised that the pool house has a keyfob system for controlled entry and that the last persons to use the fob system was a condo owner who has been harassing management. The incident was turned over to the detective bureau for further investigation.
